

Conservation Matters

2012 Winter/Spring Schedule

What is Conservation Matters?

Conservation Matters is a free series of programs sponsored by the Kiawah Conservancy in conjunction with the Sandcastle and other Kiawah Island groups and clubs to:

Examine the landscape and wildlife of Kiawah

Present the latest data on biological and botanical research on the Carolina coast

Learn more than you ever imagined about Kiawah's habitat and wildlife

How to register for a presentation or tour

Contact Jennifer Woody at 843-768-2029 or jennifer.woody@kiawahconservancy.org to register for any of the scheduled Conservation Matters events or tours.

February 16, 2012 - Little Bear Island Nature Tour

No longer accepting reservations. This tour is currently at maximum capacity.

March 9, 2012 - The Roseate Spoonbill

Professional photographer and biologist, Pamela Cohen, will give a photographic essay on the Roseate Spoonbill and its environment.

- Open and free to the public
- 3:00pm at the Sandcastle
- Space is limited and reservations are required

May 5, 2012 - Pluff Mud Paddle and Nature Tour with Kiawah Island Golf Resort Naturalists

Join us for an education event for the whole family. Participants will kayak to their very own sand bar. After exploring the marsh we will use our seine and cast nets to see what has been stranded in the tide pools of the marsh.

- Open and free to the public, space is limited to 50 participants and reservations are required
- 12:30pm at Mingo Point (3.5 hour duration)
- Age requirements: 3yrs old or 35lbs, anyone under 18 should be accompanied by an adult
- PFD's, paddles and kayaks will be provided
